The National and the International in Ambedkar's Political Thought

10 Via an analysis of political sovereignty, the social question, and Buddhism, the article seeks to demonstrate how B R Ambedkar reworks the connections between the national and the international on the common register of human equality. — Ankit Kawade, Antaripa Bharali

Women, Priesthood and Religious Rights in Tamil Nadu and Kerala

15 In light of the recent announcement by the minister for Hindu religious and charitable endowments for Tamil Nadu, regarding the government's willingness to facilitate resources and training for women who wish to be priests in temples, the article examines the debates regarding the right of women to Hindu religious realm. — Aparna Eswaran, Hameeda CK

Preparing for a Just Transition Away from Coal

19 The dominance of coal for Indian energy security might, finally, be about to reduce as increasing demands are made for a just transition to cleaner and more community-friendly forms of energy. — Patrik Oskarsson, Vasudha Chhotray

Behind the Early Unravelling of Joe Biden's Promise

23 The unwillingness of the new United States administration under Joe Biden to usher in a new deal-like transformative policies, is due to the persistent control of the big business that is endemic to the sociopolitical systems of the capitalist West. — Satyendra Ranjan

Gandhi and the Re-enactment of Racism

32 Examining M K Gandhi's attitude towards South African natives during his sojourn in South Africa, Ashwin Desai and Goolam Vahed, in their book The South African Gandhi, have accused Gandhi of racism as he considered the natives racially inferior and called them Kaffirs. — Radha Kumari

Political Economy of BMC Budgets

68 The paper focuses on the changing trends in budget allocations of the Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation, especially since the structural adjustment programme that came to be implemented from 1990 and how it has affected civic services, especially health and education. — Ravi Duggal

Is Ambedkar's Prejudice against 'Tribe' a Settled Matter?

78 A challenge is mounted against the widespread assumption that Ambedkar was prejudiced against "tribe," by revealing acts of academic carelessness that occur in the writings of some scholars through the cherry-picking of quotes and failure to historically contextualise the same. — Nishikant Kolge

Global Value Chains of MNCs and Indian SMEs: Promoting Linkages

86 The rapidly expanding global value chains of multinational corporations are increasingly dominating international trade, which emerging economies like India can hardly afford to ignore. — M H Bala Subrahmanya, Muralidharan Loganathan

Private Sector in Solid Waste Management

95 In most developing countries, waste is managed by government bodies who allocate a large amount of resources but rarely obtain the desired results. Taking this problem into account, this article explores the relationship between environmental policy and firms engaged in solid waste management by studying the case of four firms in the swm industry in India. — Rajiv V Shah, Samapti Guha

A Hundred Years of Israeli Hyper-statehood

102 Drawing historical insights from Rashid Khalidi's acclaimed book, The Hundred Years' War on Palestine: A History of Settler Colonialism and Resistance, 1917-2017, this article suggests that the unease at Israeli hyper-statehood can only grow in the us and across the world. — Amir Ali

Banking Sector Resilient in the Face of Pandemic

The Indian banking sector has been surprisingly resilient in the face of the pandemic because of the corporates. This bode well for loan growth and bank performance post the pandemic. — T T Ram Mohan

Delhi's Quest to Universalise Food Security

The article discusses the lessons from the Delhi government's food relief efforts on universalising food security benefits. — Lekha Kunduri, Shamindra Nath Roy & Shahana Sheikh

Tax Reforms and Global Redistribution: Situating the Global South

The recent agreement on the "Two-Pillar Approach" that aims to tackle global corporate tax avoidance and taxing the digital economy falls short of addressing the priorities of the global South. — Sakshi Rai

Financial Inclusion through Urban Cooperative BanksTelangana

While more than 60% of the Telangana urban cooperative banks are found to cater to slum dwellers and micro, small and medium enterprises, a clear gender gap is evident in terms of account ownership and access to credit. — Mini P Thomas, Radhika Gupta

Parliament amidst Pandemic: Situating the Opposition

Amidst the impasse over the working of Parliament how is the opposition-government relationship defined? — Vikas Tripathi, Rupak Kumar

Fifteenth Finance Commission

In the context of the uncertainties posed by the COVID-19 pandemic, six papers present key insights into the approach of the Fifteenth Finance Commission vis-à-vis the mandated task defined in the terms of reference.

Balancing Fiscal Need and Macroeconomic Stability

Given the macroeconomic uncertainties and rising fiscal needs, the Fifteenth Finance Commission focused on fiscal stability, equity and enhancement of fiscal space through higher borrowing. — Pinaki Chakraborty

Continuity with Change: Approach of the Fifteenth Finance Commission

The paper explores the structural shift in federal finances with the abolition of the Planning Commission and contemporaneous circumstances that shaped the approach of the Fifteenth Finance Commission. — Ajay Narayan Jha

Fiscal Consolidation and FRBM in the COVID-19 Context

The fiscal consolidation projections provided by the Fifteenth Finance Commission, including its alternative paths, have been rendered out of alignment because of the COVID-19's deleterious economic impact. — D K Srivastava

Fiscal Transfers in Pandemic Times

The phasing out of the revenue deficit grants to the states in the next five years is likely to pose challenges to the fiscally weak states. — M Govinda Rao

Mainstreaming Climate Change Commitments through Finance Commissions

This analysis suggests that climate change criterion in the intergovernmental fiscal transfer mechanism in India is a significant step to incentivise the conservation of forests. — Lekha Chakraborty

Fifteenth Finance Commission Award and the NES

The structural disabilities of north-eastern states necessitates that the union government supplements the expected finance commission transfers with other budgetary support. — J Dennis Rajakumar
